

Michael Caulfield: Keynote Speaker and Q+A Host

Inspire your audience with a unique presentation delivered by one of the UK's leading Sports Psychologists

About Michael:

Michael has worked in professional sport for over 25 years and in addition to his MSc he is registered as a sports psychologist with the Health and Care Professionals Council.

Michael has supported some of the biggest names in sport including working alongside Gareth Southgate at Middlesbrough Football Club 2006–2009. He was also a trusted advisor to Sir AP McCoy during his years as Chief Executive of the Professional Jockeys Association. His other roles have included working with Olympic athletes, international cricketers and elite coaches.

He is a sought after keynote speaker at sport and business conferences and has delivered leadership development programmes to businesses such as BMW, Centrica, NHS, Barclays and Heineken. Michael is also a regular contributor to BBC Radio 5 Live, BBC News and Sky Sports.

Michael brings the key concepts of his presentations to life with Sporting Edge's exclusive video insights from the world's elite coaches and sporting champions. His charismatic approach allows him to engage instantly with a wide range of delegate groups, reinforcing your company's core performance messages and creating a learning impact your delegates will never forget.
